12 DESIGN LANGUAGE

The production application should preserve the design language established in the prototype:

- Premium dark interface
- Obsidian black foundation
- Electric blue, violet, magenta, and amber accents
- Glassmorphism
- Editorial layouts
- Large profile imagery

- Spacious card layouts
- Ambient gradients
- Motion-rich interactions
- Shared ANCR™ navigation

ANCRD™ should feel like a premium professional network designed specifically for creators, not another social media platform.

13 ENGINEERING NOTES

- ANCRD™ owns professional networking workflows only.
- Identity, authentication, permissions, and Creator Passport™ remain within ANCRID™.
- Publishing, media, and portfolio assets should be referenced from their owning modules rather than duplicated.
- Reputation™ should be calculated from verified ecosystem activity rather than manual user input.
- Marketplace opportunities should be permission-aware and role-based.
- The production build should preserve the navigation, interaction patterns, visual hierarchy, and overall experience established in the prototype while allowing engineering flexibility behind the scenes.

Engineering Principle

ANCRD™ owns the professional networking experience. It should never become the source of truth for creator identity, publishing, education, finance, or career data. Instead, it surfaces verified information from across the ANCR™ ecosystem to create a trusted professional network centered on authentic creative accomplishments.
